Kyle Matthew McClure

Well time has come! You're finally graduating and moving on. Saying good-bye to you comes! It has been an adventure watching you grow into a first-year man. We are very proud of you and all of your accomplishments. We always have taken the hard road, but have figured it all out in the long run. Continue to stay focused and strong.

Kyle, you know what needs to be done, so just do it! The love you and I will have for you!! The ball is in your hands, take it and run!

Oh a side note, you are going to miss our afternoon laps at the Y!!!!

Love ya,
Mom, Dad and Kevin Mark

MICHAEL BROWN

Michael,
Words can't express how proud I am of you. Time has flown by. June 15, 1995 seemed like yesterday, the day changed my life. I always told you that you were special and that you were truly meant to be here, GOD had a plan for you and as you can see throughout your years you have accomplished so much. Your journey isn't over yet, GOD will have so much planned for you. Everything you have done has made your family proud, as a single mother I couldn't have asked for anything more, not only are you my son but also my friend, we have a special bond that will never go away.

As you continue to grow into this handsome young man just remember to always stay true to yourself, there is nothing you can't do, reach for the top and accomplish all your goals. I'm going to really miss you when you leave for school but I know that your off to bigger and better things! The end of high school is finally here, you made it.

CONGRATULATIONS Pooh!!
Love Mommy MEMO

Kelvin Laroy Bailey II

You have grown into such a strong, intelligent and caring man. I was so blessed to carry you close to my heart for nine and a half months (giggles) and I loved you before I even knew you. From the moment I set you on your feet, you have stood solidly on the ground, growing in power and confidence with the strength to be the man of the house. I am so proud of the man you are and who you have become. You are the son of my spirit and of my heart. I have truly been blessed with the greatest of you. Here's to new adventures and dreams come true.

Love you with all that I am,
Mommy

Tyler Carnevale

Congratulations on your graduation. We are so proud of all of your accomplishments during your high school years. You have come so far. We wish you success and happiness in everything you do in your future. We will always be here to support whatever decisions you choose to make. Follow your dreams.

We love you,
Mom, Dad and Kevin
